Mrs. Wilhelmina Klumpf, a widow, aged forty, was found dead in bed in her flat at No. 403 East Forty-eighth her flat at No. 408 East Forty-eighth street to-day. The discovery of the body was reported to the police by William J. Brennan, of No. 138 East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street. There were marks of violence on the face of the woman, and the police arrested Brennan.

Detectives were put to work on the ase and the Coroner's office was notified. There appears to be evidence that the woman was killed in her rooms and that the body was then placed on the ped by the murderer in an effort to sugest that she had died a natural death.

gest that she had died a natural death.

An ambulance surgeon who examined the body said that Mrs. Klumpf had been dead for some time.

It is said in the neighborhood that sounds of a struggle were heard proceed, g from the Klumpf flat last night, but the police have been unable to find evidence to corroborate this.

Brennan says that ne boarded with the woman and that she complained of feeling ill this afternoon and sent him for a doctor. As he was leaving, be says, she fainted, and he lifted her on the bed. He called Dr. Vischer, of No. 347 East Forty-seventh street, but when the doctor arrived the woman was dead and a policeman was on guard.

Dr. Kohnstann Becomes Insane in His Search to Find Eternal Existence.

Long study on the problem of comto live forever has driven Dr. Lorenzo Kohnstann insane.

His mind, which had been tottering for some time, gave way this morning, and he is now a patient in the Insane Pavilion at Bellevue. Dr. Kohnstann is forty years old. His with his wife. His knowledge of medicine warned him a few weeks ago that his brain was on the verge of collapse, and he went to the Metropoittan nospital on Wards isiand, where he applied for treatment.

He has friends in the hospital and the best of care was taken of him, but to no avail. The strain of study had been too much. Three days ago he became irrational, and this morning his condition was such that it was thought best to have him sent to Bellevue and have him regularly committed.

The problem of prolonging life infinitely engaged Dr. Kohnstann when he was a student in college.

In connection with this he studied on a plan to utilize the rays of the sun in the treatment of diseases. It is his theory that the sun's heat can be bottled or otherwise stored and adbinistered to cure all ilis as ordinary medicine is administered. This sun treatment was part of his plan for the prolongation of the life of his patients.

"I believe," said the doctor in Believue to-day, "that the time is coming when we will have perpetual life. I am on the high road to the discovery, but I am not going the saway my secreta."

ROOSEVELT SECURES HIS INDORSEMENT

President Roosevelt to-day won his fight for indorsement by the State Convention for the Republican nomination in 1904. This was agreed upon after an all-day conference of the Republican leaders in the Metropolitan Building, No. ? Madison avenue. Col. Dunn announced the decision of the conference and said it was unanimous. Senator Platt would not say anything about it.

Col. Dunn said it was decided to renominate Odell, Miller and Bond for Governor, State Comptroller and State Engineer. George R. Sheldon, banker at No. 2 Wall street, was agreed upon for Lieutenant-Governor. The other nominees on the State ticket are yet to be chosen.

MINERS REFUSE TO ACCEPT THE TERMS OFFERED TO THEM

Discussed at Harrisburg in Secret Conference, but Representatives of the Men Intimate the Terms Won't Suit.

Five United States Senators to Visit Oyster Bay on Tuesday and Urge Roosevelt to End the Strike.

(Special to The Evening World.) TAMAQUA, Pa., Sept. 13.-John Fahy, President of District No. 9, and Thomas Duffy, President of District No. 7, of the United Mine Workers, have returned from the conference with Gov. Stone. Neither would explain the plan of settlement, but they intimated that the terms submitted by Gov. Stone were unsatisfactory to the mine workers. Mr. Fahy said that he thought that Gov. Stone is sincere in his efforts to bring the strike to a settlement. There is no doubt that the strike has now resolved itself inti

MYSTERY IN CONFERENCE.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 13.—When Gov. Stone's coal strike conference in the Executive Mansion broke up at 4.30 o'clock this morning the following statement was handed to the newspaper correspondents:
